We're proud that 95% of Grauer's 2018 graduates were accepted to one of their top college choices. It's an important measure of our success.

In the atmosphere we create, we think a deeper success also happens. Our kids become curious. They gain confidence. They discover their own voice.

When surveyed, 96% of Grauer high school students say they like school; 100% feel their teachers genuinely care about them; 98% of our parents believe teachers respect their students as individuals.

Beneath the pressure for grades, test scores and admissions, parents long for a school that will nourish their child's curiosity, confidence and social connections. This is what the Grauer experience can provide.
